Dear Josh.

In some strange reason your letter has just reached me and I agree completely with your idea that you should not recommend my daughter without additional information. Gene is 17 yrs old & a straight A student. She is the first girl to be elected President of the Student Council at Canadian Academy - an evidence of her diverse intellect and her drive. She is interested in biology and the possibility of a career in medicine is clear. She is an accomplished pianist, cheer-leader and sings in the choir. Beyond academic ability and broad cultural interests she is pretty. (I may sound biased but it is all true). She is applying to Swarthmore, Stanford & Cornell.

I have just been in the States to talk about a job and to deliver the manuscript of a book on Japan - thank God it is finished. As of February I became a staff member of the Rockefeller Foundation and my first project is a study of medical education in developing countries. We plan to come back to the U.S.A. in June and he will probably re-establish at least temporarily a residence in Madison. Jim now seems to be enjoying his administrative job - at least he accepts it with the usual smile.

Are you still busy with the moon or have you concentrated again on genetics? I am afraid that I am very much out of touch with science in the U.S. but we are all very happy. Please give my regards to Esther -

Sincerely,
John.
